

CDC Data Centres (CDC) is a provider of state-of-the-art data centre facilities.

We design, develop and deliver then own and operate secure, highly available world-class facilities and services to service our client's computing and storage requirements. Within the CDC ecosystem of connected data centres, layers of physical and electronic security enable CDC to offer uniquely secure, cost efficient, scalable and sustainable data centre solutions, customisable to client needs.

CDC is a majority Australian owned company formed in Canberra in 2007, with the sole purpose of being a trusted partner for secure, sovereign, mission critical data centre colocation services.

Since its inception, CDC has developed two data centre campuses in the ACT and one campus in NSW and continues to expand to support growing client needs and demands through the recent development sites in New Zealand.

Today CDC owns and operates 13 large scale data centres with further facilities under development.

EY is a global leader in assurance, tax, transaction and advisory services.

Maliganis Edwards Johnson has been helping Rugby Players (in fact all Canberrans and their families) for over 35 years. Throughout those years our firm has been a supporter/sponsor of ANU Rugby and subsequently the OWLS, and rugby generally in the ACT.

We continue to help people with their workers compensation entitlements, industrial accident rights and compensation, loss and injury arising from medical negligence; reconciliation and compensation for institutional abuse including sexual assaults; motor vehicle accidents; public liability injuries and claims; and unfair wills and estate disputes.

Our lawyers are available both online and in the traditional face-to-face consultations.

Set in the leafy surrounds of Turner, the RUC is in the perfect place to catch up with friends for an after work drink or play a game of barefoot lawn bowls on the weekend. The RUC has a function room, perfect for parties, a bistro, a well-stocked bar, and gaming facilities for those that like a punt.

The club is open every day except Christmas day with plenty of member specials, including $12 lunches, $12 steaks on Monday nights, $12 Schnitties on Tuesdays and $15 burgers each Wednesday night. Membership is only $5 for the year so come and sit on the deck with a beer and a bar snack and take in the serenity as the sun sets over Black Mountain.
